A big fight is on between the beet sugar manufacturers of the west and the refined sugar magnates of the east. The western manufacturers have taken the aggressive and the campaign has been commenced by throwing 14,000 bags of beet sugar upon the eastern market. More is on the way. The Havemeyer sugar trust, the Arbuckles and the National company had settled the differences between them and the outlook in the sugar market was the outlook in the sugar market was serene and promising. The stiffening market in the east was perhaps the first intimation that the general publie had that an amicable understand-

Now the western manufacturers have thrown consternation into the camp thrown consternation into the camp and are forcing cane sugar men into an alliance in which they will combine to fight a new enemy. Several lots of beet sugar are on the way and the effect has been to force the price down to 4½ cents per pound. The Alameda Beet Sugar company of California has made a shipment and another consignment of 7,000 bags has been sent by the American Beet Sugar company. This company is sending direct by rail, while the other consignments will go by water.

The cane sugar refiners claim that they are in the best of condition for such a fight and that the trade was never in better condition than it is at the present time, but the fact remains that there is commotion in the camp of the eastern refiners and a bitter war is looked for.

Almost the same identical facilities and appliances are utilized in arriving at the truth in both instances. In the present political coninstances. In the present pointed contest in Wyoming the Democrats have decidedly the best of the fight up to date, although the Democratic forces are without a leader, the state chairman having through inexperience and inefficiency thrown himself open to criticism, just, though piteous. However, the intelligence of the great mass of Wyoming Democracy is amply able to wage a successful battle against the opposition without leadership.

opposition without leadership.

The issues are plain, easily defined and need only steadfastness, energy and determination. Fortunately, every county in the state is well organized locally and every Democrat in the several counties is regarded as a leader unto himself.

Issues of the Campaign.

Issues of the Campaign.

There are three well defined issues in the state over which the two great parties will contend for supremacy. True, there is a Socialist party in the state, but it is a mere side show and will cut no figure either way.

First, the present state administration must answer to the just charge of unjust taxation. It has been clearly shown that glant corporations have been invariably favored in many ways, while the taxes of the comparatively poor have been unjustly increased. For instance, the constitution of this state provides that producing mines shall be taxed in addition to the surface improvements, and in lieu of the taxes on the land on gross receipts. It provides also that the state board of equalization shall assess at their actual value the franchises, roadway, roadvalue the franchises, roadway, road-bed, rails and rolling stock and all other property used in the operation of all railroads and other common carriers, except machine shops, rolling mills and hotels in this state. Furthermore, it declares that the leg-islature must establish courts of arbi-

None of these provisions of the con-stitution has been complied with in a single instance. No courts of arbitrasingle instance. No courts of arottra-tion have ever been established and the state board has placed only a mere nominal value on rallroads and other taxable property. The present Repub-lican administration has even pro-tected a certain element in Wyoming, namely, the rallroads, other common carriers, the coal barons and other wealthy corporations in refusing to rehim will be J. Preparing For Registration.

The county committees of both parties are making active preparations to get every name possible on the registration lists next Tuesday. This will be the last opportunity before election, and so an extraordinary effort will be made.

Mr. Hay, however, showed his hand early in the game and gave it out plainly in his circular letter to his constituents that he (Hay) was backed up in his purposes to down Harry Hynds by the Republican party of Much ado has been made recently about the alleged alienation of James A. Melville and Mrs. Melville of Fillmore from the Democratic party to the Republican. Mr. Melville is in the city, and he called at Democratic headquarters to make an emphatic denial. He is still a good Democrat, and expects to remain one indefinitely. His son has been a Republican officeholder for two years, and this fact has been seized upon to make it appear that he himself has left the faith of Thomas Jefferson.

The Viking league, headed by A. F. Lawson, has disbanded, and the Scandinavian Republican club now takes its place, with Axel Steele and Lawson as chief moguls. This is just another name for the same organization, which was formed for the purpose of cornering the Scandinavian vote. Steele was busy all day yesterday telling how it happened and why the name Viking was no longer popular since Lawson had brought it into disrepute.

any government must depend on the moral atmosphere that pervades its institutions." The people of Wyoming are today, for the first time, familiar with certain facts that are too revolting to be robed in gleaming type. De-Forest Richards fully understands that he should never again be governor of he should never again be governor of Wyoming.

A False Claim.

The Republicans made a desperate effort to make what they termed an "issue" in the Wyoming campaign out of the passage of the national irrigation bill by the last congress. The Republican state central committee appeared to think it had a "lead pipe cinch," especially on the rural vote of this state, in attempting to make it appear that Frank Mondell, present Republican candidate for congress, was Republican candidate for congress, was simself alone responsible for the passage of this beneficent measure, but after it had been made clear that Mondell really had nothing to do with the passage of the bill, aside from simply voting for it, the present Cheyenne oligarchy entered into an "alliance" with the Denyer Republican to boost Mondell the Denver Republican to boost Mondell as the great "it" in securing irrigation for the arid west, but the National Irrigation congress in its recent session at Colorado Springs punctured the Denver Republican's bubble and released a sufficient amount of hot air to wither all the sage brush and bunch grass within hailing distance of the "state" of Cheyenne.

Mondell Not Mentioned.

Furthermore, among all the names big and little, that contributed in any big and little, that contributed in any way to the passage of the irrigation bill, the name of Frank Mondell of Wyoming was never mentioned at any stage of the proceedings of the National Irrigation congress.

The Republicans have made a very puerile campaign and every indication at present foreshadows complete Dem-ocratic victory for the state.

Uinta County.

In so far as Uinta county is con ly no chance of electing a single man in the event that the election is hon-estly conducted. The only hope which the Republicans of Uinta county have is in voting the illiterate foreign miners, who are unable to read the state constitution in the English language, as plainly provided by the statutes of Wyoming. This county has always een safely Democratic until the coal ompanies of the county, at Kem-erer, Diamondyille, Cumberland, Almerer, Diamondyille, Cumberland, Almy and other points, began to deprive the intelligent miner of political freedom by forcing a recognition of this illiterate foreign vote in plain violation of the law. The Republicans of Uninta county are bending all their energies toward doing the same thing in the next election, as their only hope lies in their ability to herd this illiterate vote and cast it as a whole right in the face and in utter defiance of the statutes that oppose it.

Where the Miners Stand. Another thing that will cause the ntelligent miners of that county, with-out regard to politics, to oppose the Republican ticket is the fact that in the event of Republican success in the state, one, A. E. Bradbury of this city, is to receive the appointment of state mine inspector as a reward for his withdrawal as a candidate for state his withdrawal as a candidate for state treasurer at the Rawlins convention. Mr. Bradbury has ever been a menace to the miners of this county. When this man had charge of the coal mines at Almy, this county, he was one of the principal owners of the company store at those mines and he it was who introduced the coupon ticket system of troduced the coupon ticket system of successfully absorbing the entire wages of the miners. Exorbitant prices were charged for food and supplies at not in Salt Lake City. He will be allowed to say much, are found fine words with which to express our friendship."

"What period of your lives gave you be greatest pleasure?" was asked.

"When we were digging together; then we forged the thunderbolts and I red them. The greatest campaign we were had together was in '69 at the self.

"It have now of C. Frank houses, in which the miners were com-pelled to reside, and as a result when payday arrived there was scarcely ever anything on the miner's check to represent value, aside from the dollar mark—the company coupon ticket represent value, aside from the dollar mark—the company coupon ticket method had done the rest. The intelligent miners of Ulnta county, therefore, will vote the Democratic ticket to a man, while illiterate Slav. Greek, Hungarlan and dago, who have no more right to vote than a chimpanzee, will be herded and voted by the Republican coal bosses in violation of the law, wherever it is possible to of the law, wherever it is possible to The Candidates.

It is wholly unnecessary to speak of the Democratic candidates as individuals, for they are all men of known moral worth; intelligent, painstaking business men, each especially named at the county convention because of his peculiar fitness for the office to be filled. The Democratic legislative filled. The Democratic legislative ticket in Uinta county is especially strong and commends itself strongly to the miner vote of the county. This cannot be said of the nominees on the Republican legislative end of the ticket. There is at least one candidate for legislative honors on the Republican ticket in this county who should meet with overwhelming defeat, and that is one C. W. Lee, whose present residence is up in the Jackson Hole country. This man Lee is detested by coal min-ers everywhere and it is said that he was forced to flee from a certain country on account of an active part which he is said to have taken against

Not the Right Men.

Not the Right Men.

The candidates on the Uinta county Republican ticket are far from being satisfactory to the Republicans of the county. The Republican party of Uinta county is wrenched into almost numberless factions—as many, at least, as there are offices, over which they have been scrambling ever since the accidental rise of that party to partial power in this county. The party was compelled to hold two county conventions before it could agree upon a ticket. These two conventions were held about two months apart, involving a great expense to many delegates, who had to make two trips to Evanston, the county seat, some of them party of the country, contained this week a three-column article signed by ex-Postmaster A. A. Bailey of Evanston, and one of the most prominent and well known Republicans in Uinta county. Ex-Postmaster Bailey has been prominent in Republican councils for years in Uinta county, but he makes an awful arraignment of his party through the columns of the local paper, vigorously protesting against its high methods of political mismanagement that can have but one inevitable result, and that is the total annihilation of the Republican party in Uinta county, rendering it a memory only.

Democratic Victory Assured.

Taking it all in all, the Democrats of Uinta will win easily in this conor Linta will win easily in this con-test. The largest majority received by any Republican in this county at the last election was far less than 300, while the present county clerk, a Dem-ocrat, was cleeted by a majority of more than 300. This same gentleman is again a condidate on the Democratic more than 300. This same gentleman is again a candidate on the Democratic ticket to succeed himself as county clerk. The Democratic vote in Uinta county will be very largely increased this year, for various reasons, while the Republican vote will be correspondingly decreased. Two of the chief reasons for the increased Democratic vote are: First, the dissatisfaction of the miners over the Republican outrages already perpetrated in referoutrages already perpetrated in reference to the unlawful, illiterate vote The second rests with the ranchmet and stockmen, whose ranges have been dealered by missters have four likely depleted by migratory herds from Utah, Idaho, Montana and elsewhere, these temporary, foreign invaders being pro-tected by the present Republican state administration, to the lasting data
